INTER-STATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

BLOCKS VAN SWEARINGENS NICKLE PLATE MERGER

Of the Chesapeake & Ohio, Hocking Valley and Pere Marquette Railroads Into One System--They Stood to Make Seventy Million Dollars--The Little or Minority Stockholder Protected By the Inter-State Commerce Commission Is the Out Standing Point In the Knockout--Claim Is Made That the Merger Will Be Put Over Notwithstanding.

Despite the staggering blow dealt to the ambitions railroad merger plans of the Van Swearingens by the interstate commerce commission's rejection of the proposed Nickel Plate combination, its financial sponsors reaffirmed their belief that a new financial structure for the consolidation would replace the one wrecked by the unexpected ruling of the commission.

Assurances were given at the same time that the adverse decision against the Nickel Plate would not retard other merger projects now pending among which are L. F. Loree's proposed fifth Eastern trunk line to be built around the Delaware and Hudson and his new southwestern system embracing the Kansas City Southern, St. Louis-Southwestern and "Katy" railroads; the contemplated combination of the Frisco and Rock Island lines; and other less advanced groupings, such as the Atlantic Coast line and Louisville and Nashville systems in the south.

Tentative plans for enlarging most of the great eastern railroads, however, will be thrown into the discard until a definite course of action on the Nickel Plate is determined.

A second effort to arrange the Nickel Plate financial plan, it was estimated, would cost the Van Swearingens at least $750,000 but bankers indicated that with the commission's views now certified, such an expenditure might be justified to save the investment of between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 on the case and to realize their dream of a vast unified railroad system.

Bankers are eagerly awaiting a decision from the Van Swearingens, who are due to discuss the matter at a conference with their legal advisors, but indicated that their course of action might not be revealed for another week.

E. N. Brown, chairman of the Pere Marquette railway, one of the participating roads in the merger, said he expected the Nickel Plate interests to work out a new plan to meet the requirements laid down by the interstate commerce commission. The Pere Marquette directors, however, indicated that they no longer considered the road bound by the Nickel Plate leasing agreement when they voted to call a special meeting to consider an increase in dividends. Under the original plan all constituent roads agree to make no dividend changes until the merger had finally been passed upon.

Spayer & Co., financial backers of the proposed Frisco-Rock Island merger, asserted that the disappointment caused by the Nickel Plate decision and the resultant declines in some stocks should not be allowed to obscure the longer view, in so far as this decision might be an influence on the permanent and future value of railroad investments.

Edward C. Bailly, counsel for the minority stockholders of the Hocking Valley railroad, declared that the interstate commerce commission had taken the only action possible for a fair-minded tribunal in rejecting outright the plan of financial structure proposed by the Van Swearingens and their associates.

By voting against the proposed plan he said, the commission had gone clearly on record against arbitrary treatment of minority stockholders' interests and at a single stroke have placed the entire railroad situation again in the unhealthy condition of the '90's.

CHICKEN THIEVES SENTENCED.

The woman in the case Lucile Tatman, was charged with receiving and concealing stolen property. She was given a sentence of 30 days and also fined $100 and the costs amounting to $28.15. She was sentenced to the Woman's Reformatory at Marysville, where she will remain until her days, fine and costs are worked out. Frank Shaeffer and Francis Tatman were each given a fine of $100 and costs and 30 days in the county jail to stand committed until both fine and costs are paid. The chickens were stolen from Roy Strawser and D. S. Dunlap.

The robbery occurred shortly before noon. Two of the robbers entered the bank and menaced the paying teller and a single customer with pistols while the third man looted the money cage.

Zanesville — Harvey Dickerson, 55, a farmer living at South Zanesville, was accidentally shot and killed Wednesday by his son, Lawson, 18, sophomore at the Zanesville high school. The youth was cleaning his father's revolver when the weapon was discharged accidentally, according to police. The bullet struck Dickerson in the heart. The son was not held.

Columbus — Fire destroyed several cottages at Groveport, eight miles south of here Wednesday, and menaced the east end section of the village before being placed under control. The cottages were owned by the Elmcourt hotel company. A mother and her daughter, who were ill with measles, were removed from one of the houses.

Columbus — As the first witness on the stand Wednesday in the reopening of the Logan Gas company hearings before the state utilities commission, James A. Emery, New York, appraisal engineer testified as to the company's new $50,000,000 project.

CITY FATHERS HOLD SESSION MARCH THIRD

Question of Overhead Crossing Referred to Committee of Whole Council.

The city council met in regular session Wednesday evening, March 3, with President Proteus W. F. Baker presiding and all members present.

Charles H. May, representing the C. & O. Railroad company was present and submitted plans for the construction of an overhead crossing over Main street near the river bridge and requested council to give this matter their consideration. On motion of Mr. Shaner this matter was referred to a committee consisting of all the members of council, together with the city engineer, service director, mayor and city solicitor. President Baker appointed Mr. Leist, as chairman of this committee.

Solicitor Weldon reported that the city has no authority to pay the sum of $100 towards the cost of replacing a new ceiling at the Memorial hall. He also reported that Mr. Gordon would have all of his junk removed from Clinton street within the next day or two.

Mayor Fitzpatrick reported fines, licenses and fees collected during the month of February in the sum of $234.20 and on motion of Mr. Marion this report was received and placed on file.

A communication was received from Mayor Fitzpatrick in which he gave his reason for vetoing the ordinance passed by council on February 17, 1926, regulating the price to be charged for natural gas by the Logan Gas company, because this ordinance did not require the Logan Gas company to furnish free gas for the city building, fire department building and Memorial hall as provided in the former ordinance.

Health Officer Schneider reported that the smallpox situation in the city is getting better, there being fewer homes under quarantine, than there were two weeks ago.

An ordinance regulating the price that may be charged for natural gas in the city of Circleville, during a period of five years from and after the effective date of this ordinance was introduced and read for the first time and was referred to a committee consisting of all the members of council together with the mayor and city solicitor. Mr. Leist was appointed chairman.

Mrs. John H. Dunlap left Wednesday evening for Washington D. C., where she will be the guest of Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Renick W. Dunlap and wife.

CONTRIBUTION TO CAMPAIGN FUNDS AIRED

State Auditor is Conducting Investigation of Affairs of Both Parties.

Columbus, O., March 3 (UP).—Both the Republican and Democratic 1924 campaign funds may be investigated in connection with State Auditor Joseph T. Tracey's probe of the state highway department, it was announced.

In making the funds a part of his investigation, Tracey's chief motive, he says, is "to halt the practice as old as politics, of persons making campaign gifts in anticipation of doing business with the state."

Governor Vic Donahey's campaign fund, as filed, reveals that persons connected with firms which sold and are still selling materials and equipment to the state, made gifts to the governor's "war chest, according to Tracey.

Tracey declared more than a score of such gifts had been made to Donahey fund. Records revealed that no contribution aggregated more than a few hundred dollars, he said. Some such gifts were said to have been made in the names of thru state employees, particularly in the highway department.

According to Tracey, the same holds true with the Republican party, the contributions to the latter, however, including gifts from several public utilities.

Governor Donahey's original campaign list was lost or stolen from the secretary of state's files by "unknown persons." A certified copy, however, was substituted by the governor's office.

Tracey emphatically insisted that his investigation of the highway department's purchasing policies and the administration of the state fair is not political. He is proceeding slowly, he said, and was visibly impatient at the haste which some persons and interests insist upon.

The hearing in the highway department investigation is scheduled to start March 15.

ABSENT SON REACHES HIS DYING FATHER

Thru the Untiring Efforts of the Red Cross Charles
Davis is Found.

Thru the united efforts of the Home Service sections of Ross and Pickaway county chapters, American Red Cross, an absent son, late Wednesday night reached the bedside of his father who is dying at his home in Richmondale.

The secretary of Ross county chapter telephoned the secretary of Pickaway county chapter, asking her to locate Charles Davis, colored, who worked for a farmer, Homer Jones, who lived on the Lancaster pike. A message to a neighbor brought the information that the Jones family had moved from there more than a week ago.

Local operators of the Citizens' Telephone company lent the Circleville secretary every assistance in locating the Jones family and finally found them near Kingston. The message was delivered and the boy reached home. In its efforts to aid humanity the Red Cross knows neither race, color nor creed.

ENGLISH LAW

Ended the Earthly Career of John Lincoln.

London, March 2.—(UP.)—Bombardier John Lincoln died on the scaffold today while his notorious father still hurried toward Septon Mallet prison for a last word with his condemned boy.

Crowds loitered around the prison until after midnight in the hope of seeing Trebitsch Lincoln arrive at the end of a pitiful journey from a monastery near Colomba, Ceylon, where he had sought retirement from the world following his conviction as a spy in the pay of Germany and subsequent exile from England.

Rain thudded down on those about the gates, but they stayed on until the early hours and then dispersed only to gather again at dawn for the last hours of waiting. At 8 a. m. the loiterers hushed. Within the prison young Lincoln had mounted the scaffold to pay with his life for the Christmas eve murder of Edward Richards who had surprised the young soldier in the act of robbing his home.

In a nearby hotel waited Julius Lincoln, the condemned man's brother. His fiancée and mother already had bade John goodbye. Head erect and with the firm stride of a guardsman, John Lincoln marched to the scaffold. He had refused a stimulant. There was brief business atop the gruesome structure. The trap was sprung and from the prison belfry sounded the solemn tolling of a bell. A black bordered notice of the execution told the crowd that Lincoln was dead.

John and Julius had been awake all night, one pacing a hotel room, the other a cell. The notorious father was no one knew just where, except that he had not reached the side of his son. He was reported to have passed through Paris Monday afternoon. For the brief period of his son's confinement in a death cell, Trebitsch Lincoln, former member of parliament, later a German spy and barred from England as a traitor, was restored to the honorable status of father of a British soldier.

Despite the fact that the soldier son was a murderer, the war office and other government departments co-operated to assist Trebitsch Lincoln to Septon Mallet prison in the event he actually reached England.

The last train which would have brought him to the prison gates before the execution already had gone Monday night, but the government was prepared to assist him with an automobile or an air plane if necessary.

One thing the government refused to do. It would not postpone the execution of a murderer. As soon as the trap was sprung beneath John Lincoln, the soldier son ceased to exist and the father reverted to his status of traitor and enemy to the state. If he arrives at any English port now he probably would not be permitted to land.

FOX HOUNDS FOR SALE.

One black and tan past 3 years old, male. I think he is as good a starter and runner as there is in the state and will run him anywhere. If you can find one that can beat him, you can get him very cheap.

One female four years old, good starter and will run as long as the fox stays on top. A good runner and good brood bitch.

One young dog not started yet, but very fine one.

Now, boys, if you want something good, come and get these dogs. The reason for selling them is that I cannot look after them, as I am compelled to be away from home so much.

INVENTOR

Of Blast Furnace Stands To Win Law Suit That Means Millions.

San Francisco, Calif., March 2.

—(UP.)—But one possible obstacle loomed today to enjoyment

by George Campbell, poor miner, of royalties estimated at from $5,000,000 to $20,000,000 for use of his blast furnace invention by great smelting companies.

A writ of review may be asked by the American Smelting and Refining Company, which yesterday was denied a new trial of Campbell's royalty claim. It is not considered likely the federal circuit court of appeals will grant such writ for in its opinion the court said "the ends of justice demand that the litigation should end here."

"All that remains now is an accounting suit that won't take long," said Attorney C. S. Wheeler, representing Campbell.

It is anticipated that the American Smelting and Refining Company will be found to owe Campbell about $5,000,000.

Meanwhile, in Montana courts, Campbell is fighting the Anaconda Copper Company and the Phelps Dodge Corporation for other millions in royalties.

SILK BOOM IS ON NOW IN CALIFORNIA

Revive Industry Started and Wrecked by Frenchman.

Sacramento, Cal.—California's silk industry, which is almost as old as the state itself and was launched by a Frenchman and wrecked by a Frenchman, today is being blown toward the port of prosperity by the fickle winds of French fashion.

The name of the "Forty-Niner" Frenchman who proclaimed California "The best silk-growing country in the world" while others were marveling at its wealth of gold, is little known in California itself. He was Louis Prevost of San Jose.

The name of the Frenchman who wrecked the golden state's sericulture was Louis Pasteur, the great scientist.

By 1855 silk culture was thriving in several parts of the state and the following year silk-weaving machinery was ordered. A single nurseryman in Los Angeles by 1839 was offering 100,000 mulberry trees and cuttings for sale. Louis Prevost himself had a plantation of fifty acres along what is now Main street in Los Angeles.

Then news came that Louis Pasteur, miracle-working scientist, had found a remedy for the silk worm blight and saved European sericulture. Orders for California eggs, which had been bringing $10 and $12 an ounce, dwindled, then stopped entirely, deflating the state's booming silk industry.

The wide margin of labor costs in the Far East and in California still remained a seemingly insurmountable obstacle, but with the development of a new and greater silk market there began to enter another element; speed to satisfy fashion.

This aided the industry in California, for the new shade or design proclaimed by Paris could be transmitted to California by cable and the novelty placed on the counters of California stores while it still was a novelty.

BUCHANAN TO
FOR GOVERNOR

Columbus, O., March 3 (UP).—State Representative Ross Buchanan, of Carrollton, father of the "Bible" bill vetoed by Governor Vic Donahey, became a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

In filing his declaration with Secretary of State Thad Brown Buchanan reiterated that he intended "to take the Bible bill issue to the people."

At the recent reconvened session of the general assembly Buchanan announced that unless his Bible bill was reconsidered and reenacted, he would become a candidate for governor and make the bill the major plank of his platform.

The Bible bill would have made mandatory, the reading of the Bible in the public schools. The measure was passed by the general assembly after a bitter fight in both chambers.

The governor vetoed the measure, expressing dissatisfaction with it generally.

THE NATIONAL GAME

(By Henry L. Farrell, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

New York, March 3.—Sentiment favoring the chances of the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Athletics in the Major League pennant races this year is indicated in the early betting odds quoted by commission firms in the financial district.

One bet of $3,000 against $5,000 has been offered that the Giants will beat out the Pittsburgh Pirates for the National League pennant and another of $4,000 against $5,000 that the Athletics will succeed the Washington Senators as the American League champions.

Great amounts of money are not in sight, compared to other years, because the championship races are looked upon as being tighter than usual and speculators want to see what happens to several clubs in their training camps.

Several firms said they had been asked to look for the very best long odds that the world's series would not be played in New York, that the series would not be played in St. Louis, that the Washington Senators would not finish in the second division, that the Boston Braves would not beat out the Cincinnati Reds and that the White Sox would not be a first division club.

Most all of the critics are picking the Washington Senators for a fall in the American League, believing that Bucky Harris cannot hope to have the same luck again with a veteran pitching staff.

The chances of the Yankees depend on Babe Ruth, who is reported to be in the best of condition and on two rookies who are to be tried in the infield—Tony Lazzeri, the home run king of the minor leagues and Mark Koenig, from the American Association.

Hopes for the Cincinnati Reds in the National League have decreased in the last week with the threat of Wally Pipp to retire if he doesn't get half of his purchase price from the Yankees and a rumor that Adolph Luque, one of the pitching aces, is in bad shape as a result of a recent operation.

LEARNS ABOUT INDIANS
FROM BRINK OF GRAVE*Guides Over 100 Years Old
Tell Ancient Legends

Washington.—J. P. Harrington, ethnologist of the Smithsonian Institution, whose discovery in California of the skull of the ancient so-called Santa Barbara man a year ago last summer raised anew the question of the antiquity of man on the American continent, is continuing his explorations in California. He is expected back in Washington in March with new and valuable ethnological and archeological information.

Mr. Harrington is one of the foremost experts on the languages of the American aborigines. He recently made a study of the language of the "white Indians" brought back from Panama by R. C. Marsh.

Mr. Harrington has sent word to Dr. J. Walter Fewkes, chief of the bureau of American ethnology, that he is rescuing rare data from the brink of the grave through old and feeble Indian guides who alone possess any information of the ancient village sites visited.

On an expedition into Lost valley Mr. Harrington went with Francisco Laus on horseback and remained several days in the mountains, discovering rare rancheria sites and filling a space hitherto blank on the archeological map of California.

Guide Very Old and Feeble.

"The Indian Francisco is very old and feeble," writes Mr. Harrington, "and the trip was very hard on him. All the information which he gave on these places was rescued from the brink of the grave and there is no one else that knows even a fraction of it."

Mr. Harrington visited a place where the Indians formerly captured eagles by letting a man down the face of a cliff by means of a rabbit net woven of the red milkweed fiber.

Another of Mr. Harrington's guides is Angel Cuilpe, one hundred and four years old, who accompanied him on a trip down the Canada de las Uvas. "Many of the archeological sites we visited," writes Mr. Harrington, "apparently had not been touched since Indian times and we found without difficulty the old but circles on the surface of the ground, either marked by rings of rocks which were formed by the Indians clearing the surface for the circular hut or by rings of raised earth which mark the former walls.

Ancient Village Is Found.

"The largest village we discovered was that known to the Mission Indians as Milyahu. This differed from the other sites in being located on a detached rocky hill, which has the appearance of a great towering citadel when seen from the arroyo. The little Indian wigwams, varying in diameter from fourteen to twenty feet, nestled all over the summit of this hill and the circles are as fresh as if the place had been abandoned yesterday."

On a hill on the Santa Maria ranch near Ramona Mr. Harrington discovered an ancient Indian fortification wall, which is evidently in much the same condition as when it was abandoned. It is made of rocks piled in the form of a parapet five feet or more in height. The wall forms a corral around the top of the hill. Commanding a fine view of the valley, it was used, according to tradition, as an outlook.

In Palm canyon he reaped a rich harvest in hitherto unrecorded place names and archeological sites. On this trip Juanito Razon, more than one hundred years old, was his guide. They went across the sand washes and rocky arroyos in an automobile—a hard trip. They visited ancient water holes, painted rocks, caves, sacred stones and magical springs.

Teachers' Pay Small,
Education Cost High

Washington.—"Is the cost of preparation for the teaching profession too great in proportion to the salary returns?" An article in School Life raises a serious doubt, amounting almost to an affirmative answer.

"Single men students at Columbia in 1923-24 spent for the school year of nine months an average of $1,186," the article states. Married couples from $1,630 to $2,973.

"Basing the judgment on the figures of this investigation, the cost of attaining the bachelor degree will be $4,800, the master's degree $6,000 and the doctorate $7,300 or $8,500.

"The person who enters the teaching profession can hope to receive at most about $3,400 salary in a small university or college, $3,700 in a medium-sized one and $6,000 in a large institution. Moreover, those salaries will be reached, if at all, only after from fifteen to twenty years of successful experience."

Male Butterfly LuresMate With Perfume

Washington.—Dr. Austin H. Clark of the United States National museum says the male butterfly, not the female, emits the sweet odors and wears the pretty colors. The gentleman butterfly uses enticing perfumes to attract the other sex.

These odors originate in the hair, or scales, grouped in patches on the hind wings and, in some, the hind legs. The scents are distributed in all directions and literally fill the air about the insect.

Doctor Clark has found that lemon verbena, musk and many others are common. A homely butterfly may emit a variety of gay odors.

AMUSEMENTS

"Manhattan Madness," an Encore Picture, is the attraction at the Met theater and in it are two of the best known people in the world, Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, and Estelle Taylor, known far and near, as Mrs. Jack Dempsey. They make an admirable pair of co-stars. Miss Taylor is an accomplished actress with a long list of screen successes to her credit, and champion Jack is a pleasing personality on the silver sheet. He has a fine smile, perfect poise and is a very satisfactory lover. The picture is thoroughly entertaining. The comedy is broad and furnishes fine contrast to the big dramatic moments and exciting scenes with which the story abounds. An excellent cast supports the two leading players and includes Frank Campeau, George Siegmann, Bull Montana, Theodore Lorch.

The scenes are laid in the west and in New York City. Dempsey has the role of a young Westerner, on his first trip to Manhattan, who finds it pretty dull until he is involved in a mystery surrounding the apparent kidnapping of a beautiful girl with whom he has fallen in love. He is lured to a mysterious house on Long Island and there meets a whole flock of villains who seem bent on exterminating him. The house is filled with trap doors, disappearing walls and hidden menaces and Jack has to fight his way out with his million dollar fists. He makes a good job of it and most screen spectators will imagine that they are witnessing a championship bout.

CRABBE BARS

THE SHOWING

Of the Movie Picture, the Birth of a Nation by the
Ku Klux Klan.

Columbus, O., March 4, (UP) —The Ku Klux Klan today was barred from showing privately to members of the order and their friends, the motion picture, "The Birth of a Nation."

In announcing this ruling, Attorney General C. C. Crabbe declared the picture had been barred from Ohio by the state board of censorship and that private showing would "circumvent the law."

The state supreme court several months ago upheld the ruling of the board of censorship.

A report of Crabbe's ruling on private showings was made by S. W. Lawrence of state Klan headquarters, thru Vernon M. Riegel, state director of education.

Columbus — A land contract and $1,000 "boot money" is sufficient to pay for a secondhand automobile, the state supreme court ruled denying a motion of the Beck Motor Sales company against George E. Rogers, of Wood county, to review a decision in favor of Rogers, handed down in the Woods county court of appeals.

The court of appeals reversed an opinion of the common pleas court against Rogers in the first trial of his case.

Columbus — Howard R. Sharp, of Findlay, was arrested in Findlay for possessing liquor in his automobile, his car being confiscated by the police of Findlay and today the state supreme court refused a motion for a review of the case, brought by the Associates Investment company to obtain possession of the car.

Sharp plead guilty to possessing the liquor at the time and was fined. The automobile is still in the hands of Findlay police.

Cincinnati — A valiant mother rescued four of her children when fire swept her home here Wednesday. Two other children escaped while their mother was carrying the others to safety.

With flames licking at her clothing Mrs. Nellie Brooks, 27, aroused by the screams of her children, rushed into their burning and smoke-filled bedroom, gathered the children into her arms and fought her way to the street.

Conversation Crook

Police are baffled by what they term a "conversation crook," who has been working quite successfully in and about Paris lately. The crook, police claim, rides in busses and cars, listens to private conversations and acts upon them. He heard one man say he must not forget to have a man call for his dining-room table to be repaired. The crook got away with the table.

MODERN CHICK

Must Be Hatched Early To Ring
Cash Register.

The early bird gets the worm, and the farmer who hatches his chicks early is laying the foundation for profitable egg production next winter, according to the Larrowe Institute of Animal Economics. November now brings highest prices for eggs instead of January as in former years, and progressive farmers are finding that it pays to advance hatching formerly done in May and June to February and March.

While winter is normally the season of dormant reproduction in poultry, the farmer who applies the few basic principles of poultry culture will find that he is able to get satisfactory production from his flock during the cold months, the Institute states. The use of good blood is the first prerequisite; early hatching is important; third, there must be constant growth from the time the pullet pops out of the egg until she lays one, and plentiful feeding of egg-making food during the laying. Especially important is the matter of proper feeding, for without the right kind and quantities of feed the other factors will be of little avail.

The advantages of early hatching are enumerated by the Institute as follows: Early hatched chicks are less susceptible to the common poultry diseases, make a good normal growth during spring and summer and come into laying condition when eggs are in excellent demand at a satisfactory price. Under average brooding and rearing conditions, chicks with an early start make a much better growth and attain a larger size and development than do late hatched chicks. Another advantage of early hatching chicks is that the surplus cockerels can be marketed as broilers when eight to ten weeks old on very satisfactory terms, but if this is not desired, they can be put on good green pasture and grown to roaster age, when they can be marketed advantageously in October or November. Then, too, early hatched pullets, if allowed to neck-molt in November and December will slow up production and, if allowed to come into production again, make ideal breeders.

WASHINGTON SPECIALS

Washington, March 2.—(UP.)

The administration's plan to lease Muscle Shoals to private interests for fifty years was attacked on the Senate floor this afternoon by Senator "Bob" La Follette of Wisconsin, as a "surrender to the water-power trust."

The youthful senator asserted that, carried into effect, it would go down into history "beside the stealing and wrongful disposal of our public domain." He warned his older colleagues that an "avalanche of popular disapproval" awaited them should they adopt the pending resolution providing for lease negotiations.

He pleaded for government operation of the $150,000,000 government-built Muscle Shoals power plant and declared that the government had already accomplished the most difficult part of putting the plant in operation.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews' plan for a general investigation of prohibition by a presidential commission was battered on all sides today, lacking even the support of the dries.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon outspokenly opposes it, believing no good would come of it. Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, is content to let the House alcoholic liquor traffic committee conduct the only investigation into prohibition he favors.

President Coolidge has not made his position on the proposed presidential commission inquiry known, but it is believed he will endorse Mellon's views, on the general principle of upholding his cabinet officer.

Mellon's repudiation of Andrews was the second in a fortnight, the treasury secretary having already vetoed Andrews' plan for government purchase of all the remaining bonded whisky in the country and dispensing of it through federal channels.

Andrews continues to propose maneuvers and abides by the decisions of his commander-in-chief. Nevertheless, the series of difficulties probably will speed the time of his resignation. He does not now intend to serve out the year.

Sound business conditions throughout the country are capable of resisting temporary flurries in Wall street is the opinion of Secretary of Commerce Hoover. "There is no condition today that changes the outlook from what it was a week ago," said Hoover. "Conditions are fine." Hoover declined to venture a prediction that the prosperity wave which he saw in 1925 will be continued over 1926 and 1927. "I don't like to predict conditions too far ahead but I see no reason why there should not be a continuance of production on the present basis," he declared.

Demand for a national referendum on beer and light wines was made today by Senator Edwards, N. J., Democrat, in connection with a statement attacking Prohibition Director Andrews' proposal for an unbiased commission to investigate the functioning of prohibition.

CRUEL, INDEED

The motorist had been fined and his right to drive suspended for a year for reckless driving. "Your honor," shouted his attorney, "I will appeal this case." "On what ground?" asked his honor. "On the ground that to sentence a man to become a pedestrian is cruel and unusual punishment," replied the lawyer.

"Yes, ma'am. Ah wants to thank you."

WHAT IS TO BE DONE?

"A very difficult question," the President calls the traffic casualties of the time. The figures that he cites—24,000 persons killed in a year upon the streets and highways of the country, and probably more than 500,000 injured. This means that over a period of the same length as our participation in the world war Americans are losing three-fourths as many lives on streets and roads as they lost to German bullets, and running up in addition a non-fatal casualty list thrice as great as they did abroad.

"The president has asked all the governors to appoint delegates to a national safety convention to assemble in March. While we know of no formula to meet the situation he has outlined the conference may write history by focusing public attention on the national aspects of a problem made up of a multitude of incidents at street corners and cross roads. Many communities are at work seeking and applying remedies.

The figures set forth in this article certainly ought to be a very convincing argument for

Lesson for March 7
JESUS WASHES THE DISCIPLES' FEET

LESSON TEXT—John 12:1-17.
GOLDEN TEXT—"The Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister and to give His life a ransom for many."—Matt. 20:28.
PRIMARY TOPIC—The Loving Service of Jesus.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Loyal Service of Jesus.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Jesus Dignifies Loyal Service.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Spirit of Christianity Illustrated.

With this chapter we enter into the very holy of holies of the book, namely, the inner revelation of Christ to His disciples.

I. Jesus' Amazing Love for His Own (vv. 1-3). Jesus was fully conscious of what was upon Him. He knew that the cross with all its anguish was just before Him. He knew that His disciples would shamefully forsake Him within a few hours. He knew that one of that number would be the instrument in the hands of the devil in His betrayal. He knew that all things were in His hands—was fully conscious of His deity. He did not draw His love from them because of their weakness and the shameful failure which He knew would soon be made manifest. "He loved them to the end"—to the uttermost. True love does not consider circumstances or the shortcomings of the person loved.

II. Christ Washing His Disciples' Feet (vv. 4-11). This act is symbolic of His amazing love for His disciples. Jesus did not regard His hands too holy to do this menial service.

1. Steps in This Service (vv. 4, 5).
(1) He arose from supper. (2) Laid aside His garments. (3) Took a towel and girded Himself. (4) Poured water into a basin. (5) Washed His disciples' feet. (6) Wiped them with the towel wherewith He was girded.

These steps symbolize Christ's work of redemption. His rising from supper represents His rising from His place of enjoyment in the heavenly glory. His laying aside His garments is putting aside His vesture of majesty (Phil. 2:7, 8). His girding Himself is taking the form of a servant in the incarnation (Phil. 2:7). The water in the basin, His cleansing blood. His washing their feet, their sanctification by actual cleansing men through His Word (John 15:3; Eph. 5:26). His taking His garments again, His return to His place and position of glory (Luke 24:51).

2. Peter's Impetuous Ignorance (vv. 6, 9).
He goes from one extreme to the other. His failure to understand the significance of this service caused him to behave strangely.

3. The Significance of This Service to Those Who Participate in It (vv. 10-12).

(1) It is a Spiritual Cleansing (v. 8). Fellowship with Jesus is only possible as we are continuously cleansed from our sin. "He that is washed needeth not save to wash his feet but is clean every whit" (v. 19). The cleansing here is not the washing of regeneration (Tit. 3:5), but that of sanctification (John 17:17). Even regenerate people need the continual cleansing of Christ's blood in order to have fellowship with Him. He that is regenerated—washed in the blood of Christ (symbolized by baptism) does not need a repetition of the act; he only needs the cleansing of sanctification symbolized by the washing of the feet. After regeneration, as we go through this world we are contaminated by its sin.

(2) A Badge of Brotherly Affection. This act showed His abandonment to the service of His own. This is a lesson that is much needed today. We need more and more the fulness of brotherly love. Only can true love be proved by the service it renders.

(3) A Proof of Humility. This was a lesson much needed by the disciples and much needed by us all. They had just been disputing as to who should be the greatest in the Kingdom. Their selfish motive was expressing itself. Christ's action was a concrete expression of His Spirit.

(4) Equalization. As they would thus stoop to serve each other in the name of Christ, there would be the sure destruction of caste among them. Such service in the spirit of Christ is the great leveler of humanity.

III. An Example for Us (vv. 12-17). The disciples of the Lord are under obligation to do to each other as He did unto them. This obligation rests upon His Lordship (v. 14). All who call Him Lord in sincerity will obey Him.

God's Way
God works in a mysterious way in grace as well as in nature, concealing His operations under an imperceptible succession of events, and thus keeps us always in the darkness of faith.—Fenelon.

Unites and Still the Soul
Let the current of your being set toward God, then your life will be filled and calmed by one master-passion which unites and stills the soul.—Alexander MacLaren.

All His Fault
"Beans! Beans! Beans!" stormed the wrathful husband, as he sat down to the table. "Can't you cook anything but beans?"
"Maybe," answered the sarcastic wife, "If you brought home more beans in the pay envelope, you wouldn't have so many on the table."—The Progressive Grocer.

MONDAY CLUB SESSION WAS INTERESTING

Current Events Were Discussed by Four Members in a Most Entertaining Way.

Those who believe a "Current Events" evening, dry and uninteresting, should have been present at the Monday club on the evening of March 1, when a splendid program was given under the direction of Miss Littleton. Mrs. C. E. Groce, the first speaker, had for her subject, "Current Events at the Capital." She prefaced her remarks by saying, that our splendid newspapers kept us so well informed upon the doings of the president and his wife, that she would confine her notes to two points, the White House and the Capitol.

As she pictured the last dinner of the season, given to the officers of the army and navy by President Coolidge, one could see the stately old rooms, the gay uniforms, perfumed flowers, and hear the wonderful music. She also mentioned the dinner given for the speaker of the house, Nicholas Longworth and said that the Longworth's had been the center of affairs twenty years before, their wedding day at the White House. A new silver half-dollar is to be coined in commemoration of the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration and is to carry the likeness of the president. It is significant that Coolidge is the first living president to be so honored.

The results of the bill for tax reduction and the coal strike settlement were pleasingly explained. The coal strike in seventeen days cost the manufacturers over a million dollars, while the laborers lost more than a hundred and fifty thousand.

Miss Huffman, the next speaker, in a bright manner gave much new and interesting material as to current events in South America. She gave the reason for the rise of price in coffee, mentioned that in South America 85 per cent of the voters were at the polls, spoke of the fact that shipments of hardwood from Dutch Guiana to the United States totaled over $88,000,000; and, since our country is the model for the whole world in everything, also excels in her highways, and that Argentine is modeling her road system after ours.

The statement that South America harvested in November and December over 215,000,000 bushels of wheat was interesting.

Two papers on science, given by Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Clapp, contained many wonderful facts that it was hard to believe that we were not hearing fairy stories.

Mrs. Clapp mentioned the possibility of our soon being able to run our automobiles with dust instead of gasoline. And she also gave the opinion of a scientist who declared that heat waves are as practical as sound waves, and that at no distant day we can warm our cities by heat waves.

Mrs. Graham humorously told of the selling of germs which are not hurtful, but helpful; that over a thousand kinds of germs can be sold and are most beneficial. Her story of Dr. Barton, who practically gave his life for the benefit of humanity, was very touchingly and beautifully told.

A college course in an evening was the status of the program given by the four ladies mentioned.

The yearly social session, which is a red letter affair, will be held at the beautiful home of Mrs. Charles H. May, South Court street, on the evening of March 15.

Artist Bares Fancies and Fads of Subjects

Boston.—Women like to have their portraits painted, but men do not, is the opinion of John Young-Hunter, a Scotchman who is a medalist of the Royal academy and who has painted many of America's and Britain's great. Men usually have their portraits painted because their families "have pushed them into it"; women because they have adroitly persuaded their families to push them into it, he said. "A man usually is concerned about his hair, no matter how small an amount he may have, and his mustache," Mr. Young-Hunter said. "Usually nothing else matters. Women sometimes like to have their ropes of pearls made a little larger than they really are."

Children and very old persons are the easiest to paint, Mr. Young-Hunter finds. Children know so little and old folk know so much that they do not embarrass the artist with criticisms and suggestions and are not overworked over the outcome of his efforts.

What a lot of things there are to disagree about at home.

INTER-STATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

BLOCKS VAN SWEARINGENS NICKLE PLATE MERGER

Of the Chesapeake & Ohio, Hocking Valley and Pere Marquette Railroads Into One System-- They Stood to Make Seventy Million Dollars--The Little or Minority Stockholder Protected By the Inter-State Commission Is the Outstanding Point In the Knockout--Claim Is Made That the Merger Will Be Put Over Notwithstanding.

Despite the staggering blow dealt to the ambitious railroad merger plans of the Van Swearingens by the interstate commerce commission's rejection of the proposed Nickel Plate combination, its financial sponsors reaffirm their belief that a new financial structure for the consolidation would replace the one wrecked by the unexpected ruling of the commission.

Assurances were given at the same time that the adverse decision against the Nickel Plate would not retard other merger projects now pending among which are L. F. Loree's proposed fifth Eastern trunk line to be built around the Delaware and Hudson and his new southwestern system embracing the Kansas City Southern, St. Louis-Southwestern and "Katy" railroads; the contemplated combination of the Frisco and Rock Island lines; and other less advanced groupings, such as the Atlantic Coast line and Louisville and Nashville systems in the south.

Tentative plans for enlarging most of the great eastern railroads, however, will be thrown into the discard until a definite course of action on the Nickel Plate is determined.

A second effort to arrange the Nickel Plate financial plan, it was estimated, would cost the Van Swearingens at least $750,000 but bankers indicated that with the commission's views now certified, such an expenditure might be justified to save the investment of between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 on the case and to realize their dream of a vast unified railroad system.

Bankers are eagerly awaiting a decision from the Van Swearingens, who are due to discuss the matter at a conference with their legal advisors, but indicated that their course of action might not be revealed for another week.

E. N. Brown, chairman of the Pere Marquette railway, one of the participating roads in the merger, said he expected the Nickel Plate interests to work out a new plan to meet the requirements laid down by the interstate commerce commission. The Pere Marquette directors, however, indicated that they no longer considered the road bound by the Nickel Plate leasing agreement when they voted to call a special meeting to consider an increase in dividends. Under the original plan all constituent roads agree to make no dividend changes until the merger had finally been passed upon.

Spayer & Co., financial backers of the proposed Frisco-Rock Island merger, asserted that the disappointment caused by the Nickel Plate decision and the resultant declines in some stocks should not be allowed to obscure the longer view, in so far as this decision might be an influence on the permanent and future value of railroad investments.

minority stockholders of the Hocking Valley railroad, declared that the interstate commerce commission had taken the only action possible for a fair-minded tribunal in rejecting outright the plan of financial structure proposed by the Van Swearingens and their associates.

By voting against the proposed plan he said, the commission had gone clearly on record against arbitrary treatment of minority stockholders' interests and at a single stroke had placed the entire railroad situation again in the unhealthy condition of the '90's.

CHICKEN THIEVES SENTENCED.

The Shafer-Tatman, gang of chicken thieves, who have been operating in Pickaway township, were brought before Mayor Fitzpatrick Wednesday and were found guilty. The woman in the case Lucile Tatman, was charged with receiving and concealing stolen property. She was given a sentence of 30 days and also fined $100 and the costs amounting to $28.15. She was sentenced to the Woman's Reformatory at Marysville, where she will remain until her days, fine and costs are worked out. Frank Shafer and Francis Tatman were each given a fine of $100 and costs and 30 days in the county jail to stand committed until both fine and costs are paid. The chickens were stolen from Roy Strawser and D. S. Dunlap.

CITY FATHERS HOLD SESSION MARCH THIRD

Question of Overhead Crossing Referred to Committee of Whole Council.

The city council met in regular session Wednesday evening, March 3, with President Proteem W. F. Baker presiding and all members present.

Charles H. May, representing the C. & O. Railroad company was present and submitted plans for the construction of an overhead crossing over Main street near the river bridge and requested council to give this matter their consideration. On motion of Mr. Shaner this matter was referred to a committee consisting of all the members of council, together with the city engineer, service director, mayor and city solicitor. President Baker appointed Mr. Leist, as chairman of this committee.

Solicitor Weldon reported that the city has no authority to pay the sum of $100 towards the cost of replacing a new ceiling at the Memorial hall. He also reported that Mr. Gordon would have all of his junk removed from Clinton street within the next day or two.

Mayor Fitzpatrick reported fines, licenses and fees collected during the month of February in the sum of $234.20 and on motion of Mr. Marion this report was received and placed on file.

A communication was received from Mayor Fitzpatrick in which he gave his reason for vetoing the ordinance passed by council on February 17, 1926, regulating the price to be charged for natural gas by the Logan Gas company, because this ordinance did not require the Logan Gas company to furnish free gas for the city building, fire department building and Memorial hall as provided in the former ordinance.

Health Officer Schneider reported that the smallpox situation in the city is getting better, there being fewer homes under quarantine, than there were two weeks ago.

An ordinance regulating the price that may be charged for natural gas in the city of Circleville, during a period of five years from and after the effective date of this ordinance was introduced and read for the first time and was referred to a committee consisting of all the members of council together with the mayor and city solicitor. Mr. Leist was appointed chairman.

Mrs. John H. Dunlap left Wednesday evening for Washington D. C., where she will be the guest of Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Renick W. Dunlap and wife.

E. church in Columbus, is among the class of 16 announced Wednesday by the Famous Players-Lasky corporation as graduating into filmdom. He was president of the class of stars graduated into immediate jobs, at salaries not less than $75 weekly. Brokaw is a 1920 graduate of Ohio State university and was a member of Strollers and the Drama League, a founder of Scarlet Mask. He was also president of the Glee club and a member of Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity. He appeared in Columbus last year with Jane Cowl in "Romeo and Juliet."

The young man attended school in this city when his parents resided here. His father was pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church here.

CONTRIBUTION TO CAMPAIGN FUNDS AIRED

State Auditor is Conducting Investigation of Affairs of Both Parties.

Columbus, O., March 3 (UP).—Both the Republican and Democratic 1924 campaign funds may be investigated in connection with State Auditor Joseph T. Tracey's probe of the state highway department, it was announced.

In making the funds a part of his investigation, Tracey's chief motive, he says, is "to halt the practice as old as politics, of persons making campaign gifts in anticipation of doing business with the state."

Governor Vic Donahey's campaign fund, as filed, reveals that persons connected with firms which sold and are still selling materials and equipment to the state, made gifts to the governor's "war chest," according to Tracey.

Tracey declared more than a score of such gifts had been made to Donahey fund. Records revealed that no contribution aggregated more than a few hundred dollars, he said. Some such gifts were said to have been made in the names or thru state employees, particularly in the highway department.

According to Tracey, the same holds true with the Republican party, the contributions to the latter, however, including gifts from several public utilities.

Governor Donahey's original campaign list was lost or stolen from the secretary of state's files by "unknown persons." A certified copy, however, was substituted by the governor's office.

Tracey emphatically insisted that his investigation of the highway department's purchasing policies and the administration of the state fair is not political. He is proceeding slowly, he said, and was visibly impatient at the haste which some persons and interests insist upon.

The hearing in the highway department investigation is scheduled to start March 15.

ABSENT SON REACHES HIS DYING FATHER

Thru the Untiring Efforts of the Red Cross Charles
Davis is Found.

Thru the united efforts of the Home Service sections of Ross and Pickaway county chapters, American Red Cross, an absent son, late Wednesday night reached the bedside of his father who is dying at his home in Richmondale.

The secretary of Ross county chapter telephoned the secretary of Pickaway county chapter, asking her to locate Charles Davis, colored, who worked for a farmer, Homer Jones, who lived on the Lancaster pike. A message to a neighbor brought the information that the Jones family had moved from there more than a week ago.

Local operators of the Citizens' Telephone company lent the Circleville secretary every assistance in locating the Jones family and finally found them near Kingston. The message was delivered and the boy reached home. In its efforts to aid humanity the Red Cross knows neither race, color nor creed.

ENGLISH LAW

Ended the Earthly Career of John Lincoln.

London, March 2.—(U.P.)—Bombardier John Lincoln died on the scaffold today while his notorious father still hurried toward Septon Mallet prison for a last word with his condemned boy.

Crowds loitered around the prison until after midnight in the hope of seeing Trebitsch Lincoln arrive at the end of a pitiful journey from a monastery near Colomba, Ceylon, where he had sought retirement from the world following his conviction as a spy in the pay of Germany and subsequent exile from England.

Rain thudded down on those about the gates, but they stayed on until the early hours and then dispersed only to gather again at dawn for the last hours of waiting. At 8 a. m. the loiterers hushed. Within the prison young Lincoln had mounted the scaffold to pay with his life for the Christmas eve murder of Edward Richards who had surprised the young soldier in the act of robbing his home.

In a nearby hotel waited Julius Lincoln, the condemned man's brother. His fiancée and mother already had bade John goodbye. Head erect and with the firm stride of a guardsman, John Lincoln marched to the scaffold. He had refused a stimulant. There was brief business atop the gruesome structure. The trap was sprung and from the prison belfry sounded the solemn tolling of a bell. A black bordered notice of the execution told the crowd that Lincoln was dead.

John and Julius had been awake all night, one pacing a hotel room, the other a cell. The notorious father was no one knew just where, except that he had not reached the side of his son. He was reported to have passed through Paris Monday afternoon. For the brief period of his son's confinement in a death cell, Trebitsch Lincoln, former member of parliament, later a German spy and barred from England as a traitor, was restored to the honorable status of father of a British soldier.

Despite the fact that the soldier son was a murderer, the war office and other government departments co-operated to assist Trebitsch Lincoln to Septon Mallet prison in the event he actually reached England.

The last train which would have brought him to the prison gates before the execution already had gone Monday night, but the government was prepared to assist him with an automobile or an air plane if necessary.

One thing the government refused to do. It would not postpone the execution of a murderer. As soon as the trap was sprung beneath John Lincoln, the soldier son ceased to exist and the father reverted to his status of traitor and enemy to the state. If he arrives at any English port now he probably would not be permitted to land.

FOX HOUNDS FOR SALE.

One black and tan past 3 years old, male. I think he is as good a starter and runner as there is in the state and will run him anywhere. If you can find one that can beat him, you can get him very cheap.

One female four years old, good starter and will run as long as the fox stays on top. A good runner and good brood bitch.

One young dog not started yet, but very fine one.

Now, boys, if you want something good, come and get these dogs. The reason for selling them is that I cannot look after them, as I am compelled to be away from home so much.

INVENTOR

Of Blast Furnace Stands To Win Law Suit That Means Millions.

San Francisco, Calif., March 2.

—(U.P.)—But one possible obstacle loomed today to enjoyment

by George Campbell, poor miner, of royalties estimated at from $5,000,000 to $20,000,000 for use of his blast furnace invention by great smelting companies.

A writ of review may be asked by the American Smelting and Refining Company, which yesterday was denied a new trial of Campbell's royalty claim. It is not considered likely the federal circuit court of appeals will grant such writ for in its opinion the court said "the ends of justice demand that the litigation should end here."

"All that remains now is an accounting suit that won't take long," said Attorney C. S. Wheeler, representing Campbell.

It is anticipated that the American Smelting and Refining Company will be found to owe Campbell about $5,000,000.

Meanwhile, in Montana courts, Campbell is fighting the Anaconda Copper Company and the Phelps Dodge Corporation for other millions in royalties.

SILK BOOM IS ON NOW IN CALIFORNIA

Revive Industry Started and Wrecked by Frenchman

Sacramento, Cal.—California's silk industry, which is almost as old as the state itself and was launched by a Frenchman and wrecked by a Frenchman, today is being blown toward the port of prosperity by the fickle winds of French fashion.

The name of the "Forty-Niner" Frenchman who proclaimed California "The best silk-growing country in the world" while others were marveling at its wealth of gold, is little known in California itself. He was Louis Prevost of San Jose.

The name of the Frenchman who wrecked the golden state's sericulture was Louis Pasteur, the great scientist. By 1865 silk culture was thriving in several parts of the state and the following year silk-weaving machinery was ordered. A single nurseryman in Los Angeles by 1869 was offering 100,000 mulberry trees and cuttings for sale. Louis Prevost himself had a plantation of fifty acres along what is now Main street in Los Angeles.

Then news came that Louis Pasteur, miracle-working scientist, had found a remedy for the silk worm blight and saved European sericulture. Orders for California eggs, which had been bringing $10 and $12 an ounce, diminished, then stopped entirely, deflating the state's booming silk industry.

The wide margin of labor costs in the Far East and in California still remained a seemingly insurmountable obstacle, but with the development of a new and greater silk market there began to enter another element; speed to satisfy fashion.

This aided the industry in California, for the new shade or design proclaimed by Paris could be transmitted to California by cable and the novelty placed on the counters of California stores while it still was a novelty.

BUCHANAN TO
FOR GOVERNOR

Columbus, O., March 3 (UP).—State Representative Ross Buchanan, of Carrollton, father of the "Bible" bill vetoed by Governor Vic Donahey, became a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

In filing his declaration with Secretary of State Thad Brown Buchanan reiterated that he intended "to take the Bible bill issue to the people."

At the recent reconvened session of the general assembly Buchanan announced that unless his Bible bill was reconsidered and reenacted, he would become a candidate for governor and make the bill the major plank of his platform.

The Bible bill would have made mandatory, the reading of the Bible in the public schools. The measure was passed by the general assembly after a bitter fight in both chambers.

The governor vetoed the measure, expressing dissatisfaction with it generally.

THE NATIONAL GAME

(By Henry L. Farrell, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

New York, March 3.—Sentiment favoring the chances of the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Athletics in the Major League pennant races this year is indicated in the early betting odds quoted by commission firms in the financial district.

One bet of $3,000 against $5,000 has been offered that the Giants will beat out the Pittsburgh Pirates for the National League pennant and another of $4,000 against $5,000 that the Athletics will succeed the Washington Senators as the American League champions.

Great amounts of money are not in sight, compared to other years, because the championship races are looked upon as being tighter than usual and speculators want to see what happens to several clubs in their training camps.

Several firms said they had been asked to look for the very best long odds that the world's series would not be played in New York, that the series would not be played in St. Louis, that the Washington Senators would not finish in the second division, that the Boston Braves would not beat out the Cincinnati Reds and that the White Sox would not be a first division club.

Most all of the critics are picking the Washington Senators for a fall in the American League, believing that Bucky Harris cannot hope to have the same luck again with a veteran pitching staff.

The chances of the Yankees depend on Babe Ruth, who is reported to be in the best of condition and on two rookies who are to be tried in the infield—Tony Lazzeri, the home run king of the minor leagues and Mark Koenig, from the American Association.

Hopes for the Cincinnati Reds in the National League have decreased in the last week with the threat of Wally Pipp to retire if he doesn't get half of his purchase price from the Yankees and a rumor that Adolph Luque, one of the pitching aces, is in bad shape as a result of a recent operation.

LEARNS ABOUT INDIANS
FROM BRINK OF GRAVE*Guides Over 100 Years Old
Tell Ancient Legends

Washington.—J. P. Harrington, ethnologist of the Smithsonian institution, whose discovery in California of the skull of the ancient so-called Santa Barbara man a year ago last summer raised anew the question of the antiquity of man on the American continent, is continuing his explorations in California. He is expected back in Washington in March with new and valuable ethnological and archeological information.

Mr. Harrington is one of the foremost experts on the languages of the American aborigines. He recently made a study of the language of the "white Indians" brought back from Panama by R. C. Marsh.

Mr. Harrington has sent word to Dr. J. Walter Fewkes, chief of the bureau of American ethnology, that he is rescuing rare data from the brink of the grave through old and feeble Indian guides who alone possess any information of the ancient village sites visited.

On an expedition into Lost valley Mr. Harrington went with Francisco Laus on horseback and remained several days in the mountains, discovering rare rancheria sites and filling a space hitherto blank on the archeological map of California.

Guide Very Old and Feeble.

"The Indian Francisco is very old and feeble," writes Mr. Harrington. "and the trip was very hard on him. All the information which he gave on these places was rescued from the brink of the grave and there is no one else that knows even a fraction of it."

Mr. Harrington visited a place where the Indians formerly captured eagles by letting a man down the face of a cliff by means of a rabbit net woven of the red milkweed fiber.

Another of Mr. Harrington's guides is Angel Cuilpe, one hundred and four years old, who accompanied him on a trip down the Canada delas Uvas. "Many of the archeological sites we visited," writes Mr. Harrington, "apparently had not been touched since Indian times and we found without difficulty the old hut circles on the surface of the ground, either marked by rings of rocks which were formed by the Indians clearing the surface for the circular hut or by rings of raised earth which mark the former walls."

Ancient Village Is Found.

"The largest village we discovered was that known to the Mission Indians as Milyahu. This differed from the other sites in being located on a detached rocky hill, which has the appearance of a great towering etade when seen from the arroyo. The little Indian wigwams, varying in diameter from fourteen to twenty feet, nestled all over the summit of this hill and the circles are as fresh as if the place had been abandoned yesterday."

On a hill on the Santa Maria ranch near Ramona Mr. Harrington discovered an ancient Indian fortification wall, which is evidently in much the same condition as when it was abandoned. It is made of rocks piled in the form of a parapet five feet or more in height. The wall forms a corral around the top of the hill. Commanding a fine view of the valley, it was used, according to tradition, as an outlook.

In Palm canyon he reaped a rich harvest in hitherto unrecorded place names and archeological sites. On this trip Juanito Razon, more than one hundred years old, was his guide. They went across the sand washes and rocky arroyos in an automobile—a hard trip. They visited ancient water holes, painted rocks, caves, sacred stones and magical springs.

Teachers' Pay Small,
Education Cost High

Washington.—"Is the cost of preparation for the teaching profession too great in proportion to the salary returns?" An article in School Life raises a serious doubt, amounting almost to an affirmative answer.

"Single men students at Columbia in 1923-24 spent for the school year of nine months an average of $1,186," the article states. Married couples from $1,630 to $2,973.

"Basing the judgment on the figures of this investigation, the cost of attaining the bachelor degree will be $4,800, the master's degree $6,000 and the doctorate $7,300 or $8,500."

"The person who enters the teaching profession can hope to receive at most about $3,400 salary in a small university or college, $3,700 in a medium-sized one and $6,000 in a large institution. Moreover, those salaries will be reached, if at all, only after from fifteen to twenty years of successful experience."

Male Butterfly LuresMate With Perfume

Washington.—Dr. Austin H. Clark of the United States National museum says the male butterfly, not the female, emits the sweet odors and wears the pretty colors. The gentleman butterfly uses enticing perfumes to attract the other sex.

These odors originate in the hair, or scales, grouped in patches on the hind wings and, in some, the hind legs. The scents are distributed in all directions and literally fill the air about the insect.

Doctor Clark has found that lemon verbena, musk and many others are common. A homely butterfly may emit a variety of gay odors.

AMUSEMENTS

"Manhattan Madness," an Encore Picture, is the attraction at the Met theater and in it are two of the best known people in the world, Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, and Estelle Taylor, known far and near, as Mrs. Jack Dempsey. They make an admirable pair of co-stars. Miss Taylor is an accomplished actress with a long list of screen successes to her credit, and champion Jack is a pleasing personality on the silver sheet. He has a fine smile, perfect poise and is a very satisfactory lover. The picture is thoroughly entertaining. The comedy is broad and furnishes fine contrast to the big dramatic moments and exciting scenes with which the story abounds. An excellent cast supports the two leading players and includes Frank Campeau, George Siegmann, Bull Montana, Theodore Lorch.

The scenes are laid in the west and in New York City. Dempsey has the role of a young Westerner, on his first trip to Manhattan, who finds it pretty dull until he is involved in a mystery surrounding the apparent kidnapping of a beautiful girl with whom he has fallen in love. He is lured to a mysterious house on Long Island and there meets a whole flock of villains who seem bent on exterminating him. The house is filled with trap doors, disappearing walls and hidden menaces and Jack has to fight his way out with his million dollar fists. He makes a good job of it and most screen spectators will imagine that they are witnessing a championship bout.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

Mrs. Phil Berry, of Park street, was given a surprise Tuesday evening when a number of her friends came with well filled baskets of good things to eat and enjoyed the evening with her and her family. The evening was spent with music and conversation. A delicious lunch was served by the ladies, sixteen in number. All departed wishing Mrs. Beery many more happy days.

We have a beautiful six piece bed room suite that would make a very attractive suite for a young lady's room. It is far more attractive than the one shown above. We have no picture of the one we have in mind. The suite consists of bed, vanity, low-boy, bench, rocker, and night-table. It is made of Wild Cherry veneers in combination with other woods. The finish is known as Blistered Cherry. It is very beautiful and we want you to come and see it. The price? We almost forgot about that.

All six pieces for less than $300—$285.00, to be exact with a discount of $14.25, if you pay cash. We have but one suite in Cherry and cannot promise delivery of any more within four months. That's how well this suite is selling elsewhere. So, don't delay, but come in right away and order it sent out for the daughter's room.

CRABBE BARS FROM SCREEN THE SHOWING

Of the Movie Picture, the Birth of a Nation by the
Ku Klux Klan.

Columbus, O., March 4, (UP) —The Ku Klux Klan today was barred from showing privately to members of the order and their friends, the motion picture, "The Birth of a Nation."
In announcing this ruling, Attorney General C. C. Crabbe declared the picture had been barred from Ohio by the state board of censorship and that private showing would "circumvent the law."
The state supreme court several months ago upheld the ruling of the board of censorship.
A report of Crabbe's ruling on private showings was made by S. W. Lawrence of state Klan headquarters, thru Vernon M. Riegel, state director of education.

Columbus — A land contract and $1,000 "boot money" is sufficient to pay for a secondhand automobile, the state supreme court ruled denying a motion of the Beck Motor Sales company against George E. Rogers, of Wood county, to review a decision in favor of Rogers, handed down in the Woods county court of appeals.
The court of appeals reversed an opinion of the common pleas court against Rogers in the first trial of his case.

Columbus — Howard R. Sharp, of Findlay, was arrested in Findlay for possessing liquor in his automobile, his car being confiscated by the police of Findlay and today the state supreme court refused a motion for a review of the case, brought by the Associates Investment company to obtain possession of the car.
Sharp plead guilty to possessing the liquor at the time and was fined. The automobile is still in the hands of Findlay police.

Cincinnati — A valiant mother rescued four of her children when fire swept her home here Wednesday. Two other children escaped while their mother was carrying the others to safety.
With flames licking at her clothing Mrs. Nellie Brooks, 27, aroused by the screams of her children, rushed into their burning and smoke-filled bedroom, gathered the children into her arms and fought her way to the street.

Conversation Crook
Police are baffled by what they term a "conversation crook," who has been working quite successfully in and about Paris lately. The crook, police claim, rides in busses and cars, listens to private conversations and acts upon them. He heard one man say he must not forget to have a man call for his dining-room table to be repaired. The crook got away with the table.

MODERN CHICK
Must Be Hatched Early To Ring
Cash Register.

The early bird gets the worm, and the farmer who hatches his chicks early is laying the foundation for profitable egg production next winter, according to the Larrowe Institute of Animal Economics. November now brings highest prices for eggs instead of January as in former years, and progressive farmers are finding that it pays to advance hatching formerly done in May and June to February and March.

While winter is normally the season of dormant reproduction in poultry, the farmer who applies the few basic principles of poultry culture will find that he is able to get satisfactory production from his flock during the cold months, the Institute states. The use of good blood is the first prerequisite; early hatching is important; third, there must be constant growth from the time the pullet pops out of the egg until she lays one, and plentiful feeding of egg-making food during the laying. Especially important is the matter of proper feeding, for without the right kind and quantities of feed the other factors will be of little avail.

The advantages of early hatching are enumerated by the Institute as follows: Early hatched chicks are less susceptible to the common poultry diseases, make a good normal growth during spring and summer and come into laying condition when eggs are in excellent demand at a satisfactory price. Under average brooding and rearing conditions, chicks with an early start make a much better growth and attain a larger size and development than do late hatched chicks. Another advantage of early hatching chicks is that the surplus cockerels can be marketed as broilers when eight to ten weeks old on very satisfactory terms, but if this is not desired, they can be put on good green pasture and grown to roaster age, when they can be marketed advantageously in October or November. Then, too, early hatched pullets, if allowed to neck-molt in November and December will slow up production and, if allowed to come into production again, make ideal breeders.

WASHINGTON SPECIALS

Washington, March 2.—(UP.)—The administration's plan to lease Muscle Shoals to private interests for fifty years was attacked on the Senate floor this afternoon by Senator "Bob" La Follette of Wisconsin, as a "surrender to the water-power trust."

The youthful senator asserted that, carried into effect, it would go down into history "beside the stealing and wrongful disposal of our public domain." He warned his older colleagues that an "avalanche of popular disapproval" awaited them should they adopt the pending resolution providing for lease negotiations.

He pleaded for government operation of the $150,000,000 government-built Muscle Shoals power plant and declared that the government had "already accomplished the most difficult part of putting the plant in operation."

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews' plan for a general investigation of prohibition by a presidential commission was battered on all sides today, lacking even the support of the dyes.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon outspokenly opposes it, believing no good would come of it. Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, is content to let the House alcoholic liquor traffic committee conduct the only investigation into prohibition he favors.

President Coolidge has not made his position on the proposed presidential commission inquiry known, but it is believed he will endorse Mellon's views, on the general principle of upholding his cabinet officer.

Mellon's repudiation of Andrews was the second in a fortnight, the treasury secretary having already vetoed Andrews' plan for government purchase of all the remaining bonded whisky in the country and dispensing of it through federal channels.

Andrews continues to propose maneuvers and abides by the decisions of his commander-in-chief. Nevertheless, the series of difficulties probably will speed the time of his resignation. He does not now intend to serve out the year.

Sound business conditions throughout the country are capable of resisting temporary flurries in Wall street is the opinion of Secretary of Commerce Hoover. "There is no condition today that changes the outlook from what it was a week ago," said Hoover. "Conditions are fine." Hoover declined to venture a prediction that the prosperity wave which he saw in 1925 will be continued over 1926 and 1927. "I don't like to predict conditions too far ahead but I see no reason why there should not be a continuance of production on the present basis," he declared.

Demand for a national referendum on beer and light wines was made today by Senator Edwards, N. J., Democrat, in connection with a statement attacking Prohibition Director Andrews' proposal for an unbiased commission to investigate the functioning of prohibition.

WHAT IS TO BE DONE?

"A very difficult question," the President calls the traffic casualties of the time. The figures that he cites—24,000 persons killed in a year upon the streets and highways of the country, and probably more than 500,000 injured. This means that over a period of the same length as our participation in the world war Americans are losing three-fourths as many lives on streets and roads as they lost to German bullets, and running up in addition a non-fatal casualty list thrice as great as they did abroad.

"The president has asked all the governors to appoint delegates to a national safety convention to assemble in March. While we know of no formula to meet the situation he has outlined the conference may write history by focusing public attention on the national aspects of a problem made up of a multitude of incidents at street corners and cross roads. Many communities are at work seeking and applying remedies.

The figures set forth in this article certainly ought to be a very convincing argument for

Lesson for March 7

JESUS WASHES THE DISCIPLES' FEET

LESSON TEXT—John 12:1-17.
GOLDEN TEXT—"The Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister and to give His life a ransom for many."—Matt. 20:28.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Loving Service of Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Loyal Service of Jesus.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Jesus Dignifies Loyal Service.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Spirit of Christianity Illustrated.

With this chapter we enter into the very holy of holies of the book, namely, the inner revelation of Christ to His disciples.

I. Jesus' Amazing Love for His Own (vv. 1-3). Jesus was fully conscious of what was upon Him. He knew that the cross with all its anguish was just before Him. He knew that His disciples would shamefully forsake Him within a few hours. He knew that one of that number would be the instrument in the hands of the devil in His betrayal. He knew that all things were in His hands—was fully conscious of His deity. He did not withdraw His love from them because of their weakness and the shameful failure which He knew would soon be made manifest. "He loved them to the end"—to the uttermost. True love does not consider circumstances or the shortcomings of the person loved.

II. Christ Washing His Disciples' Feet (vv. 4-11). This act is symbolic of His amazing love for His disciples. Jesus did not regard His hands too holy to do this menial service.

1. Steps in This Service (vv. 4, 5). (1) He arose from supper. (2) Laid aside His garments. (3) Took a towel and girded Himself. (4) Poured water into a basin. (5) Washed His disciples' feet. (6) Wiped them with the towel wherewith He was girded.

These steps symbolize Christ's work of redemption. His rising from supper represents His rising from His place of enjoyment in the heavenly glory. His laying aside His garments is putting aside His vesture of majesty (Phil. 2:7, 8). His girding Himself is taking the form of a servant in the incarnation (Phil. 2:7). The water in the basin, His cleansing blood. His washing their feet, their sanctification by actual cleansing men through His Word (John 15:3; Eph. 5:26). His taking His garments again, His return to His place and position of glory (Luke 24:51).

2. Peter's Impetuous Ignorance (vv. 6, 9).

He goes from one extreme to the other. His failure to understand the significance of this service caused him to behave strangely.

3. The Significance of This Service to Those Who Participate in It (vv. 10-12).

(1) It is a Spiritual Cleansing (v. 8). Fellowship with Jesus is only possible as we are continuously cleansed from our sin. "He that is washed needeth not save to wash his feet but is clean every whit" (v. 19). The cleansing here is not the washing of regeneration (Tit. 3:5), but that of sanctification (John 17:17). Even regenerate people need the continual cleansing of Christ's blood in order to have fellowship with Him. He that is regenerated—washed in the blood of Christ (symbolized by baptism) does not need a repetition of the act; he only needs the cleansing of sanctification symbolized by the washing of the feet. After regeneration, as we go through this world we are contaminated by its sin.

(2) A Badge of Brotherly Affection. This act showed His abandonment to the service of His own. This is a lesson that is much needed today. We need more and more the fulness of brotherly love. Only can true love be proved by the service it renders.

- (3) A Proof of Humility.

This was a lesson much needed by the disciples and much needed by us all. They had just been disputing as to who should be the greatest in the Kingdom. Their selfish motive was expressing itself. Christ's action was a concrete expression of His Spirit.

- (4) Equalization.

As they would thus stoop to serve each other in the name of Christ, there would be the sure destruction of caste among them. Such service in the spirit of Christ is the great leveler of humanity.

III. An Example for Us (vv. 12-17). The disciples of the Lord are under obligation to do to each other as He did unto them. This obligation rests upon His Lordship (v. 14). All who call Him Lord in sincerity will obey Him.

God's Way

God works in a mysterious way in grace as well as in nature, concealing His operations under an imperceptible succession of events, and thus keeps us always in the darkness of faith.—Fenelon.

Unites and Stills the Soul

Let the current of your being set toward God, then your life will be filled and calmed by one master-passion which unites and stills the soul.—Alexander MacLaren.

All His Fault

"Beans! Beans! Beans!" stormed the wrathful husband, as he sat down to the table. "Can't you cook anything but beans?"

"Maybe," answered the sarcastic wife, "if you brought home more beans in the pay envelope, you wouldn't have so many on the table."—The Progressive Grocer.

MONDAY CLUB SESSION WAS INTERESTING

Current Events Were Discussed by Four Members in a Most Entertaining Way.

Those who believe a "Current Events" evening, dry and uninteresting, should have been present at the Monday club on the evening of March 1, when a splendid program was given under the direction of Miss Littleton Mrs. C. E. Groce, the first speaker, had for her subject, "Current Events at the Capital." She prefaced her remarks by saying, that our splendid newspapers kept us so well informed upon the doings of the president and his wife, that she would confine her notes to two points, the White House and the Capitol.

As she pictured the last dinner of the season, given to the officers of the army and navy by President Coolidge, one could see the stately old rooms, the gay uniforms, perfumed flowers, and hear the wonderful music. She also mentioned the dinner given for the speaker of the house, Nicholas Longworth and said that the Longworths had been the center of affairs twenty years before, their wedding day at the White House. A new silver half-dollar is to be coined in commemoration of the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration and is to carry the likeness of the president. It's significant that Coolidge is the first living president to be so honored.

The results of the bill for tax reduction and the coal strike settlement were pleasingly explained. The coal strike in seventeen days cost the manufacturers over a million dollars, while the laborers lost more than a hundred and fifty thousand.

Miss Huffman, the next speaker, in a bright manner gave much new and interesting material as to current events in South America. She gave the reason for the rise of price in coffee, mentioned that in South America 85 per cent of the voters were at the polls, spoke of the fact that shipments of hardwood from Dutch Guiana to the United States totaled over $88,000,000; and, since our country is the model for the whole world in everything, also excels in her highways, and that Argentine is modeling her road system after ours.

The statement that South America harvested in November and December over 215,000,000 bushels of wheat was interesting.

Two papers on science, given by Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Clapp, contained many wonderful facts that it was hard to believe that we were not hearing fairy stories.

Mrs. Clapp mentioned the possibility of our soon being able to run our automobiles with dust instead of gasoline. And she also gave the opinion of a scientist who declared that heat waves are as practical as sound waves, and that at no distant day we can warm our cities by heat waves.

Mrs. Graham humorously told of the selling of germs which are not hurtful, but helpful; that over a thousand kinds of germs can be sold and are most beneficial. Her story of Dr. Barton, who practically gave his life for the benefit of humanity, was very touchingly and beautifully told.

A college course in an evening was the status of the program given by the four ladies mentioned.

The yearly social session, which is a red letter affair, will be held at the beautiful home of Mrs. Charles H. May, South Court street, on the evening of March 15.

Artist Bares Fancies and Fads of Subjects

Boston.—Women like to have their portraits painted, but men do not, is the opinion of John Young-Hunter, a Scotchman who is a medalist of the Royal academy and who has painted many of America's and Britain's great. Men usually have their portraits painted because their families "have pushed them into it"; women because they have adroitly persuaded their families to push them into it, he said. "A man usually is concerned about his hair, no matter how small an amount he may have, and his mustache," Mr. Young-Hunter said. "Usually nothing else matters. Women sometimes like to have their ropes of pearls made a little larger than they really are."

Children and very old persons are the easiest to paint, Mr. Young-Hunter finds. Children know so little and old folk know so much that they do not embarrass the artist with criticisms and suggestions and are not overworried over the outcome of his efforts.

What a lot of things there are to disagree about at home.
